Workshop on Research Methodology for Beginners

Ganpat University - Faculty of Social Sciences & Humanities organized workshop titled “Three Days Workshop on Research Methodology for Beginners” during November 8-10, 2019. The main purpose behind organizing this workshop was to develop a sound methodological base of research among researchers to cope up with challenges in the field of research and to train, reorient and reactivate them on research methodology. Workshop was inaugurated in the presence of Dr. Sourbhi Chaturvedi, Dean - Faculty of Management Studies, Ganpat University and Dr. Hiren Patel, Associate Dean - Faculty of Management Studies, Ganpat University. Dr. Sourbhi Chaturvedi motivated the participants for industry and society oriented quality research. Total nineteen research scholars had taken benefit of three days” workshop.

On first day (Nov. 8, 2019), Dr. Hiren Patel delivered session on identification of research problem and research design and he explained participants to define research problem and design research plan. In second half of first day, Dr. Nirav Halvadia spoke on sampling design, measurement and scaling, questionnaire design and clarified topics conducting exercise. Second day (Nov. 9, 2019) was on SPSS software and Non-Parametric statistical tools. In first half of day, Dr. Vipul Patel trained participants for SPSS software and also educated them for descriptive analysis, normality assessment and reliability of data. In second half of same day, Dr. Kundan Patel delivered session on non-parametric statistical tools including Chi Square, Mann-Whitney, Kruskal-Wallis and others useful statistical tools. On last day (Nov. 10, 2019) of workshop, sessions were conducted by Dr. Abhishek Parikh and Dr. Jayesh Patel. Dr. Abhishek Parikh has explained students on correlation and regression statistical tool, while Dr. Jayesh Patel conducted session on exploratory factor analysis.

Finally, workshop was ended up taking feedback from the participants and certificate distribution ceremony in the presence of Dr. Jayesh Patel, Associate Professor, V. M. Patel Institute Management, Ganpat University. In real sense, workshop remained output oriented and participants were directed to prepare research proposal for their Ph.D. and M.Phil. Program and to write a good quality research paper for conferences and publications in referred and good ranked journals. Workshop on “Bridging the Employability Gap”

The workshop on “Bridging the Employability Gap” was organized on October 17, 2019 Thursday at Ganpat University - V. M. Patel College of Management Studies. A workshop is organized with the idea to bridge the employability gap that exists between industry and academic worlds. The scenario of job and placement, in India, has been dire, where, on one side the students are hunting for good jobs and most of them end up disappointed even though they possess certain skills. On the other side, job market is thriving and ample, but fails to get the students of desired skill, knowledge, aptitude and attitude.

There were two sessions in workshop. First session was on “Bridging the Employability Gap” and second session was on “Resume Building”. Seventy nine final year students of BBA (General, Financial Services and Marketing Management) and B.Com. Programme took active participation in workshop. Workshop was organized and coordinated by Dr. Vipul Patel, Assistant Professor, V. M. Patel College of Management Studies under the guidance of Dr. Abhishek K. Parikh, Associate Dean, Faculty of Social Science and Humanities (FSSH). Workshop was really fruitful for all the participants and at the end of it; students gave positive feedback on outcomes.
